

Anabelian Geometry with étale homotopy types

Jakob STIX

Universität Frankfurt, Francfort

Classical anabelian geometry shows that for hyperbolic curves the étale fundamental group encodes the curve provided the base field is sufficiently arithmetic. In higher dimensions it is natural to replace the étale fundamental group by the étale homotopy type. We will report on progress obtained in this direction in a recent joint work with Alexander Schmidt.